

Woodley Park News

Our neighbor Eric Cox has written a political novel that takes place in and around Woodley Park. The main character (or main living character) in Conversations with George Washington and Benjamin Rush has just been appointed to fill a vacancy in the US Senate and takes an apartment in Woodley Park. What he does — and from whom he receives visitations — is the stuff of the story. And along the way, we learn about Benjamin Rush, a lesser known but important and interesting figure.

The Office of the Chief Technology Officer has developed a website called DC's Digital Public Square. It not only can give you information about District agencies and how they work, but it also can provide access to a variety of data about their operations and about the city generally. Take a look.

The twelfth annual east-of-Connecticut-Avenue neighborhood cleanup is Saturday April 25 from 9 am to 1 pm (or whenever). It's a time to clean the alley, green-spaces, your own yard, behind the zoo fence — whatever is bothering you. Rain date, Sunday April 26.

CALENDAR

The WPCA Executive Committee usually meets on the first Wednesday of the month; the next meeting will be at 7:30 pm on Wednesday May 6 at Stanford (Connecticut Ave & Woodley Rd). A draft agenda should be posted on the website a few days before the meeting. All are welcome.
