

Wednesday June 26

Woodley Park News

The Woodley Park Ace Hardware has a program called "Made in DC" which is intended to support businesses that make products locally. It and the eight other locally owned and operated Ace stores in DC and Maryland will dedicate a section of each store to showcase handmade products from an entrepreneur who lives in the DC or Maryland area. Applications are due July 5. More info here or contact Courtney Smith at Ace.

The Washington Business Journal reports that JBG is moving ahead on its plan to convert to condos part of the Wardman Tower building of the Marriott Hotel (the older building on the corner of Woodley and Connecticut). It hopes to start work late 2013 and finish a year later.

Thanks to the many in the community (including businesses Lebanese Taverna and Ace Hardware) who made the neighborhood picnic a success, and especially to Sarah Taber who made the plans and deployed the troops.

John Goodman

WPCA

For more information, visit <http://www.wpcaonline.org/>

© Woodley Park Community Association